If you or a loved one are diagnosed with cancer or a blood disease, getting treatment close to home can make a difficult time easier. The OHSU Knight Cancer Institute has community clinics around Portland to provide treatment in a location that's convenient for you. We offer experienced doctors and expert care so you can focus on the most important part of treatment – getting better.

Our knowledge

We're part of OHSU, Oregon's only academic medical center, so we have the latest information about cancer care and research. We use our knowledge to give you the best care available. Our doctors have many years of working together to treat all types of cancer and blood disorders.

In your neighborhood

Treatment is easier when you're close to your home, near family and the people who support you. You can see a doctor in your neighborhood at a clinic near you. We have clinics in Beaverton, East Portland, Gresham, Northwest Portland and Tualatin.

Treatment designed for you

At OHSU Knight Cancer Institute, you will have a whole team dedicated to your unique care, including doctors, nurse practitioners, social workers and office staff. Each of our doctors is board-certified or board-eligible with specialized training in cancer and blood disease treatment. Your doctor will work with you to create the right plan for your condition, health and lifestyle.

You can get care at OHSU Knight Cancer Institute in your community even if your primary care doctor or surgeon doesn't work at OHSU. We collaborate with community doctors to create your personal treatment plan and work with them every step of the way. We are committed to keep your doctor informed of your progress, providing a summary and follow-up plan when your treatment is complete. Our goal is to give you the best care available, close to home.

We accept most health plans. For more information or questions about health insurance call 503 601-4879.
